Remedial English (203100)

Prerequisite: Placement Test or English Scores from the Entrance Examination

This noncredit course is an intensive Remedial English class required of provisional undergraduate students. Emphasis on academic and cultural survival skills through development of listening and speaking proficiency. Areas of study include vocabulary, grammar, reading, writing, and pronunciation; and introducing autonomous learning using various resources.

This course has been framed around two goals and seven standards:

- Goal 1: To use English to communicate in different social settings both inside and outside the university:
 - Standard 1: Students will use spoken English for personal statement, enjoyment, and enrichment.
 - Standard 2: Students will use spoken and written English to participate appropriately in social interaction.
 - Standard 3: Students will recognize and understand cultural differences.
 - Standard 4: Students will use appropriate communication strategies to extend their communicative competence.
- Goal 2: To use English to help achieve personal and academic goals and to promote life-long learning:
 - Standard 1: Students will use English to access and process information and to construct knowledge in both spoken and written forms.
 - Standard 2: Students will use English to participate in academic contexts.
 - Standard 3: Students will use appropriate learning strategies to acquire, construct, and apply knowledge.

The miner's face was covered in coal dust.

You can form the possessive case of a singular noun that ends in "s" by adding an apostrophe alone or by adding an apostrophe and "s," as in the following examples:
The bus's seats are very uncomfortable.

The bus' seats are very uncomfortable.

You can form the possessive case of a plural noun that does not end in "s" by adding an apostrophe and a "s," as in the following examples:
The children's mittens were scattered on the floor of the porch.

The men's hockey team will be play as soon as the women's team is finished.

You can form the possessive case of a plural noun that does end in "s" by adding an apostrophe:
The concert was interrupted by the dogs' barking, the ducks' quacking, and the babies' squaling.

The janitors' room is downstairs and to the left.

My uncle spent many hours trying to locate the squirrels' nest.

When you are sure you understand clearly, you can click on Exercises (Plural Nouns, Countable or Uncountable Nouns) to continue.
If you still don't understand something, feel free to ask a question at suksan2004@yahoo.com
