BIOGRAPHY

Miss Ketwalee Siwapithakpong was born on June 15, 1995 at Nakhon Ratchasima, Thailand. She graduated with Senior High School from Chakkarat Wittaya School, Nakhon Ratchasima and further study a Bachelor of Science Degree Program in Crop Production Technology at Suranaree University of Technology in 2014. She graduated in March 2018, then she attended in a B.Sc. program in School of Crop Production Technology, institute of Agricultural Technology in the same year. She received a Kittibandit scholarship from Suranaree University of Technology which supported her. During her study, she had a chance to present her research work in the Innovation for Resilient Agriculture Agricultural International Conference during October 19-21, 2022 in Chiang Mai, Thailand (Poster Presentation on “Evaluation of powdery mildew resistance and agronomic performance of pyramided mungbean lines from marker-assisted selection”), and received the best presentation award.