

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor, Dr. Patcharin Siringan for excellent supervision, patience and dedication in helping me accomplish my research and thesis. She provided advice on academics throughout the course of my study. In addition, the valuable lesson she has taught me through research is greatly appreciated. I would also like to thank all members of the proposed committee for their excellent advice and suggestions.

I would also like to thank faculty members at the School of Food Technology, Suranaree University of Technology, for their scientific discussion, instrumental support and other help with kindness. Financial support from the One Research One Grant (OROG) scholarship.

Many thanks go to all my friends at Suranaree University of Technology for their scientific discussion and friendships. Finally, I wish to thank my beloved parents, sisters and relatives for their moral support, understanding, inspiration and encouragement.
